“Spring was in the air” and our arranged guest speaker, Wilber “Elbows” Dundee had to cancel due to a scheduling conflict with the State of Michigan. Seems Elbows had himself scheduled to give a presentation on “Home Invasion” at Kiwanis, and the State of Michigan had him scheduled to give a presentation of 5 to 10 at Jackson State Prison. Anyhow, one of our own, Renan Ludscher stepped in to fill the void and told us all about 3D printers. Just when we started to get used to regular printers they changed all the rules and made the damn things print in three dimensions. You can make toys, statues, guns that don’t set off metal detectors and multicolored thing-a-ma-gigs for the bedroom. My mind was a boggle, but then it’s not hard to boggle my mind, I’m still amazed by Milk Duds. Anyhow, the program was such a success we’re going to have Renan back as a speaker after his trip to the Brazilian rainforest to show us pictures of 30 foot long snakes and alligators the size of Buicks.

The Memorial Day Parade is just around the corner and it’s time to start thinking about walking down Michigan Avenue between cheering crowds. Actually, I don’t think they’re cheering for us, but they do seem pretty happy when we give them free peanuts. We need members to pass out the peanuts, pull the peanut wagons, drive the cars, carry the banner and help drink beer when it’s all over. About 16 will do the trick, but as with all things Kiwanis, the more the merrier.

The 19th of April we are going to have a special meeting. That’s the night the Edsel Ford High School Key Club is going to celebrate their charter. We’re hoping for a real good turn out of our members that night cause we’re having all the state Kiwanis bigwigs and anywhere from 50 to 70 high school kids in attendance. The kids will be running the show and we will be there for support. Don’t miss this one, and let us know ahead of time if you plan on attending, with a crowd that big the K of C needs a dinner count. We will be in the big hall that night.

Also, on April 2nd at 4 pm our Circle K club at U of M Dearborn will be celebrating their charter with a dinner at U of M. Invitations have been sent out and we need a good turn out of support for this celebration. E-Mail invitations with a map have also been sent out for this one, please let Renea know if you will attend.

Up-Coming Events:

March 29th – Last Wednesday in the month and you know what that means, committee meetings. There will also be a short presentation on Donald Trumps accomplishments during his first 70 days and Kerry Manseau will be doing demonstrations for Republican Lawmakers on how to tie their own shoelaces, apparently they have lost that skill set.

April 2nd – Charter party for the U of M Circle K club, come eat and be merry (the schools paying for the food).

April 5th – Friends of the Zug Island Nature Preserve will give us a presentation on the oddities of nature complete with two headed birds, hairy fish and blind squirrels. Board of Directors meeting to follow.

Have you ever wondered why you can’t taste your tongue?
